

About The Changing Religion

Scientific discovery of super volcanoes enables new insight into end of the world prophecy in Revelation 16:17-21 and Luke 17:23-30 in the Christian scriptures, Qur'an surahs 56, 99, and 101, and the Book of Mormon's 1 Nephi 12:4-6. The scriptures describe lightning, thunder, giant hailstones, and earthquakes that cause cities across the planet to crumble and mountains and islands to vanish as the earth tosses out its insides.

Three other prophecies of Islam are proved by science: a shortage of men that is developing from effect of industrial pollution on the y-chromosome and resulting male-to-female birth rates; increasing difficulty in making physical distinction between men and women that is in fact developing as animals and humans are hermaphrodized through medical conditions also promoted by accumulating industrial pollution; and giant sinkholes that science confirms will occur when dirt or water suddenly fills in enormous underground holes left from oil drilling or other extractions.

Christ's New Testament words confirm the super volcano and the in-common Muslim and Mormon prophecies of Jews coming to accept him before his return, prophets being given to other nations, a religious unity to occur, and the return of Elijah (called Imam Al Mehdi in Islam) also before him. Careful reading, cross-references, and additional scientific and historical knowledge challenge other aspects of current beliefs of multiple religions to further define this new understanding of Islam and the unity of religions.
